

Atlantic City Plans for Huge Stadium

Convention Hall to Be Part of the Enterprise—Arrivals at the Hotels.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Jan. 15.—The Republican joint committee on party programme of the New Jersey Legislature is meeting to-night in the Marlborough-Blenheim Hotel, of which Senator Charles D. White, a member of the committee, is one of the owners. One of the important matters under discussion is the question as to whether or not the Legislature should enact a measure depriving Gov. Edwards, a Democrat, of the power to appoint State public utility commissioners or vest this power in the courts. The conference will have much to do with the fate of a 19-cent trolley fare plan of the transit companies of the State.

Efforts are being made to have the Erie-Carlton Hotel, which is in course of construction near the Ambassador, in Chelsea, ready for occupancy in June.

The National Canners Association convention, which will be attended by approximately 8,000 delegates from many States, will open at the Traymore. The Traymore will be the convention headquarters.

Mr. David A. Skinner, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, was here this week to arrange for a convention to open April 25, with headquarters at the Traymore. There will be 5,000 delegates.

The resort's committee of citizens interested in the plan for the erection of a huge stadium here has announced that a convention hall, modelled after the municipal convention hall in San Francisco, will be a part of the enterprise. The stadium bowl would seat 70,000. The project will be promoted by a $5,000,000 corporation, of which Harry Latz, manager of the Atlantic, probably will be president. The desire of the committee in planning the stadium is to attract here the Olympic games, the Army and Navy football games, world's series baseball games and other athletic classics.

There is a movement under way to provide the resort with a new hospital that will cost $1,000,000. The present institution is becoming inadequate to meet the constantly increasing demands that are made upon it.

The chamber will be raised to a position of dignity on Wednesday at the Ambassador Hotel, the convention of the National Pickle Packers' Association. Dr. Edwin Le Pevre of the Department of Agriculture at Washington; Prof. W. W. Gilbert, pathologist of the department, and Dr. L. A. Jones of Cornell University will consider the cultivation, ailments and place in pickling operations of the vegetable.

Interesting data on the condition of the retail trade in lower prices throughout this country and England will be considered on Tuesday at the Ambassador during a conference of the Retail Merchants' Association, in whose membership are representatives of most of the large department stores from New York to San Francisco. They will consider trade conditions, the problems underlying the retail trade in lower prices, efficiency methods for employees and other subjects of prime importance.

Senor Alejandro Berea, Consul-General of Spain, will be the guest of the Olive Oil Importers Association at the Ambassador on Wednesday, when the association's representatives will discuss questions about the tariff on Spanish olive oil.

At the Traymore are Mrs. Theodore Hicks of New York, who arrived with Miss Dewey; Miss Willette Kershaw; Mrs. William E. Griswold and Miss Adela Griswold; Mr. Saxon Kling and Mrs. Jacob Fields.

Marlborough-Blenheim—Mr. and Mrs. Norman Baron, Mr. Charles Thaddeus Terry, Mrs. Harris B. Gregg and Mrs. C. C. Gossett of New York.

Prince and Princess Ludovico Pignatelli of Cannes, France, have arrived at the Ambassador. The princess was Miss Ruth M. Waters, daughter of Mr. E. Jason Waters, managing director of the Ambassador.

Princess Cantacuzene-Speransky was one of the speakers before the conference of the State directors of the Near East Relief, which was held at the Chalfonte. Lady Anne Azapetian, a native Armenian and wife of Gen. Azapetian, also was a speaker. She was assisted by a Red Cross nurse of the Russian army of the old regime.

Washington Not Worried Over an Inaugural Ball

Week Just Past Has Been Filled With Entertainments of All Kinds.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—HOW does Washington feel about Mr. Harding's desire to do away with all inaugural pomp and ceremony, cut out all unnecessary frills, get along without the ball, and matter much to Washington. When it comes to inaugural balls—after all, they're not much as balls. Washington has plenty of balls of its own—charity balls, debutante dances, Junior League, the One Hundred Club, to say nothing of private parties.

This week started off gayly on Monday night with the ball for the benefit of the Children's Hospital—"the Charity Ball"—the ball that everybody turns out for. It's the ball whose list of patronesses is always headed by the First Lady—followed by the Second Lady—of the Land, and includes nearly all of the leading official and diplomatic hostesses, as well as the influential dowagers and smart young matrons of the exclusive resident set.

On Tuesday there was the D. A. R.'s "Americanization Ball," which attracted practically everybody interested in the various organizations that specialize on ancestry and patriotism and that it's up to this generation to live up to its forebears. Also there was Mrs. Marshall Field's dinner dance—smaller, of course, and equally, of course, "smarter."

Also that same night there was the Baltimore Assn., one of the biggest events of the season in Baltimore, to which, as usual, shoals of the Washington elect went over. Society of Washington and Baltimore is so closely connected that it is sometimes hard to say which is which, and each town is rather given to affectionate chaffing of the other as its most important suburb.

Ball in Annapolis.

Wednesday seemed to have been an off-day—or rather night—so far as dancing was concerned, except that there was Gov. Ritchie's ball, which lured practically all who were so fortunate as to be asked over to Annapolis.

Even the White House observed "Cabinet Wednesday." Mrs. Wilson had the entire group of Cabinet women and one or two outsiders to luncheon at the White House. To Mrs. William Riley Marshall. Apparently Mrs. Wilson has planned a series of small luncheons for various groups of official women.

In addition to Mrs. Marshall, the company included Mrs. Colby, Mrs. Houston, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Burleson, Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. Daniels, Mrs. Meredith and Mrs. Wilson. Mrs. Wilson's list of official women except Mrs. Alexander, who is down mourning and not going anywhere—where—and the one or two outsiders mentioned. Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. Joseph Tumulty, Mrs. Clarence Ridley, Mrs. Adelaide Worth Bagley, Mrs. Daniels' mother, and Mrs. William H. Boulton and Miss Bertha Boulton.

Mrs. Alexander Hunter Galt, Mrs. Wilson's other sister, was not included in this party, but she had been the only member of Mrs. Wilson's family in the White House since the Philadelphia Orchestra concert the day before, when Mrs. Wilson's other guests were Mrs. Pezet, Mrs. Vandewater, Mrs. William Williams and Mrs. Wallace Radcliffe.

Thursday's society society took a day off, following the noble example of the Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. Houston, and dined rather than danced.

Officers Play Hosts.

But last night there was one of the Junior League's dances, which always occupies the attention of the smart young dancing set; and to-night there is a dance for the benefit of the Philadelphia Orchestra concert the day before, when Mrs. Wilson's other guests were Mrs. Pezet, Mrs. Vandewater, Mrs. William Williams and Mrs. Wallace Radcliffe.

Thursday's society society took a day off, following the noble example of the Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. Houston, and dined rather than danced.
